Interview Tips for Parents

1. Parents should be aware of the school's background, teaching characteristics and school philosophy.
2. Parents should be fully aware of their children's living habits and daily work.
3. When your child does not know or slow response, parents should not rush or urge the child, should wait patiently for the child to answer.
4. When your child is in a bad mood, parents can ask the teacher to make arrangements to sooth him/her, such as letting him/her play games first.
5. When your child is in a bad mood, don't force him/her to answer, because it will only make his/her mood worse.
6. When parents answer questions, just go straight to the point. You should avoid providing extra and unnecessary information.
7. Parents should be polite and avoid showing off.
8. Schools generally attach great importance to the participation and cooperation of parents. If parents show interest in school activities, such as joining a parents-teacher association or volunteer activities, it will leave a good impression on the interviewers.
9. Parents should face the interview calmly. Don't be too nervous, because nervous emotions can be transmitted to children.
